With OneShare for Test, Sogeti continues to define industry standards in testing services.

How OneShare Helps

Your company's ability to compete is often tied to your ability to build innovative, high quality applications, and deliver them to market fast and with confidence.

OneShare for Test, as a component of Sogeti's comprehensive application development offering, ensures your testers have the tools, agility, and scale they need to move fast and do their work efficiently. And it also provides access to Sogeti's proven process for driving quality - TMap methodology; and Sogeti's low defect philosophy - PointZERO.

OneShare

A cloud-based platform that enables you to:

- Optimize for agile work environments
- Build tests directly on the cloud or migrate from on premises
- Execute any type of test including systems, integration, regression or acceptance

TMap

A best-in-class testing methodology to help:

- Prioritize test goals across the entire application lifecycle
- Manage defects and product risks from the start
- Adapt to any SDLC or technology
- Ensure success through a seven-stage test process

PointZERO

A fundamental testing philosophy that:

- Leverages best practices for early lifecycle testing and defect prevention
- Develops solutions that are Fit for Purpose
- Avoids rework in later stages by implementing a "No Faults Forward" approach

Creating Change in Our Industry

25% of all tests reduced within one year

15% increase in time-to-market

90% detection of nearly all critical defects

"Using a test provider like Sogeti was hugely advantageous. Being a public facing entity meant that using professional test resources gave us the extra confidence we needed before going live."

- Robbie Wright
ICT Project, Southampton Airport

"Sogeti has helped us to meet critical deadlines and ensure that our QA teams are staffed by experts with a good understanding of our business processes without incurring costly and time consuming recruitment overheads."

- Adam Williams
