

Faster bills Fuller experiences

Signed, sealed, scanned

A global player in employee benefits and engagement helps companies offer more personalized, meaningful experiences to their people, so that they can enjoy more of what matters. But inside this company, manual billing processes and fragmented formats were costing precious time—and momentum.

Sogeti helped uncomplicate the work with an intelligent application powered by cognitive document processing. Now, handwritten and printed bills from multiple vendors are scanned, categorized, and validated automatically—line by line, rule by rule.

Up to 60% time savings. Fewer errors. A system that scales as new vendors and bill types come onboard. With smarter workflows at the core, this company can focus on building partnerships, expanding choice, and delivering even more moments that matter to millions of employees worldwide.
